

Thurston's wrinkly paper models for hyperbolic space are a natural way to realize Escher's tessellations of the Poincare disc.

Here's a model of Escher's Circle Limit III (shown above) built from Euclidean squares and triangles. I used it to illustrate hyperbolic geometry to an undergraduate class

